

GOOD FRIDAY IS OBSERVED BUT NOT AS HOLIDAY

Many Business Houses and Public Offices Close and Churches Observe

A majority of Honolulu's business houses and public offices are closed today in observance of Good Friday, but for the first time in many years the occasion is not a holiday as far as the public schools are concerned.

The legislature fixes the school holidays and Good Friday is not included. The matter of declaring a special holiday lies with the governor, and no information was received by the department of public instruction from the executive chambers yesterday that the schools might close today. However, Supt. Henry W. Kinney says that the department will raise no objection to parents keeping their children out of school to participate in, or witness, incident to Good Friday.

Following is the program of Good Friday services in the various local churches, and services during the remainder of this week:

ship which brought him to this country. Federal Agents Charles J. Scully and Albert J. Adair met him at the pier and went with him to the office of Capt. Offley. "He may be questioned regarding the manner in which he obtained the false passport on which he went to England."

"Von der Goltz is not under arrest," said Capt. Offley. "He may be questioned regarding the manner in which he obtained the false passport on which he went to England."

"My men boarded the Finland on other business. If they were seen in conversation with von der Goltz that would not be unusual, as I believe they had met him before in his work. Sgt. Brust's presence on board is explained by the fact that he is engaged on a secret service mission. My men are in touch with the sergeant, but the nature of their business I cannot divulge."

It was as Bridgman Taylor that von der Goltz obtained his passport, and the federal authorities are strongly inclined to the belief that he is the Taylor whose name appeared in Capt. von Papen's expense list.

According to Scotland Yard men, von der Goltz was sentenced to death in England, but received promise that his life would be spared if he came to this country and told the United States government what he knew about conspiracies to commit unneutral acts. After giving his testimony, the Scotland Yard man said he is to be returned to England and sent to South America, under promise not to enter Britain, Germany or the United States.

Until the outbreak of the European war von der Goltz was an officer in Villa's army in Mexico.

DEVIL'S HISTORY LECTURE SUBJECT

"Who Made the Devil?" was the subject of the lecture last night at the Opera House, when Evangelist McCord said in part:

"That a being called the devil exists in the universe is very evident from a study of God's word and world. Though this mysterious being is personally invisible to man, yet we see tokens of his personality and work."

"The Bible is very clear on the identity of the devil, and in both the Old and New Testaments his personality is repeatedly stated in the clearest terms. The Bible not only tells of his present existence, but going back to the beginning of things, tells of his position and even his appearance before sin entered the universe. Satan at one time was the covering cherub, a position that placed him next to Christ in authority. See Isa. 28:14. He was not satisfied with this high position, but wanted to be like God. See Isa. 14:12-14. This of course was high treason and resulted in the first battle in the universe. One-third of the angels sided with Satan in his rebellion, while two-thirds remained loyal to Christ."

"It is clear therefore that the Lord created this great being as Lucifer (Lightbearer), but through transgression he made himself the devil. This fallen being has still much power and authority, being referred to by Christ as the 'prince of this world' (John 12:31), and again in Matt. 12:24, is called 'prince of demons.'"

"Satan secured a foothold in this world when he conquered Adam and Eve, but when Jesus came as the 'second Adam,' He conquered the devil. Luke 4:1-13; and this is God's assurance that some day He will have a clean universe for redeemed man to dwell in, free from sin and sinners. When that time comes there will be no demon to annoy the children of God; Satan and his followers will have been destroyed forever (Rev. 20:10); the great conflict will have ended; and the universe will then have peace."

The topic for tonight will be "A Night in Sodom." The harpist will favor the audience with several selections on his $200 harp, and the male quartet will sing.

ESCAPE FROM DEATH IS ONLY A MIRACLE

The day of miracles is yet at hand according to the testimony in police court yesterday in the case against Hawe Pele Kai for heedless driving.

Henry Bega, utility man at the Boys' Industrial School at Waiata, testified that he was a passenger in the machine driven by Kai, and was sitting in the front seat. There was one other passenger in the back seat.

Both the passenger in the rear and Bega were sleeping, and Bega noticed that Hawe Kai was sleepy too, and advised him to stop the machine at Waiata where there was a machine on the ground for the night. This the driver refused to do.

Then Bega fell asleep and didn't wake up until he found himself swimming around in the water near the Waiata bridge and the other passenger and the driver also foundering around, with the machine a few feet away.

Mr. Rathburn, manager of the Kahuku ranch and owner of the car, testified that he found the car next morning with the wheels sticking up in the air. He says it is a miracle the boys where not all killed, as the drop over the bank was nearly 30 feet.

According to the statutes, Judge Monsarrat will transfer the case to Judge Whitney's juvenile court, as the driver is several months under 18.

ARMY & NAVY LIEUT. AND MRS. BURNETT HOSTS AT ARMY EVENT

Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Burnett gave a most attractive dinner party for 60 of the army set of Oahu on Saturday evening at the Haleiwa hotel before the moonlight dance. The dinner was given in honor of Col. and Mrs. Hodges, who arrived on the last transport from the mainland to command the 1st Infantry at Castner.

Attractive hand-painted place cards marked the guests' places, and Easter lilies were used for the table decorations. The guests were seated at small tables placed on the land of the hotel and after dinner dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Corey will probably be assigned to duty as adjutant of the 2nd Battalion, and will have quarters No. 903, vacated by Capt. W. J. Ferris. Capt. Ferris has been transferred to the 1st Battalion, assigned to Battery C, and has moved to quarters No. 1025. "First Lieut. Rene E. de R. Hoyle has also been assigned to Battery C and will have quarters No. 1037, recently vacated by Lieut. I. Jones, who left on the last transport to join the 5th Field Artillery. Lieut. Hoyle is the son of Brig.-gen. Eli D. Hoyle, retired. Mrs. Hoyle has been at Schofield Barracks several months visiting her father, Col. John F. Guiltory.

Maj. Charles A. Hedekin has been assigned to the command of the 1st Squadron, 4th Cavalry. Mrs. Hedekin will arrive at a later date. Capt. James P. Barney, another new arrival, has been assigned to the command of Troop D, 4th Cavalry. Mrs. Barney is a sister of Mrs. Wise, wife of Capt. Hugh D. Wise, 25th Infantry.

Maj. Hedekin has been chief of militia affairs in the office of Gen. Mills in Washington. Capt. Barney comes from Fort Ethan Allen, where he was stationed with the 2nd Cavalry.

Capt. Conrad S. Babcock and Capt. Hamilton S. Hawkins, whose names were originally on the transport list to join the 4th Cavalry, were not passengers on the Sheridan, but will join at a later date. It is reported that Capt. Hawkins is at present on a board purchasing horses for the United States troops in Mexico.

The field artillery is losing one of its favorite "aiming points." The tall concrete tower that has for more than a year been a prominent landmark at the big garrison, standing several feet high in the center of the quadrangle of the new 1st Infantry barracks, is now being taken down. The scaffolding around the 2d Battalion barracks is also being taken down.

The following enlisted men arrived on the Sheridan for assignment to the regiments at Schofield Barracks. They arrived in charge of 1st Lieut. L. Ahern, 1st Field Artillery. Practically all of them are men transferred from regiments serving on the mainland: Fourth Cavalry, eight; 1st Field Artillery, four; 1st Infantry, four; 25th Infantry, three.

Chief Musician Pettinelli of the 1st Infantry band reported back for duty last week, following a three months' furlough spent on the island of Oahu.

Sgt. Steve Zilka, first sergeant of Company B, 1st Infantry, returned on the Sheridan from a three months' furlough spent at his home in Iowa.

'SEE HALEIWA' THROUGH GLASS-BOTTOMED BOAT

Haleiwa will have a glass-bottom boat placed in service for tourists.

Captain James Stanfield, formerly of Catalina island, arrived in the city this morning to inspect the new glass-bottom boat which has just been completed by the Walker Boat Building Company.

The boat will hold 16 people, and is built along the lines of the glass-bottom boats at Catalina. Captain Stanfield said this morning that the coral gardens and colored fish will be big features at Haleiwa, and those who have inspected the gardens with a glass box are of the opinion that Haleiwa will outrank Catalina in respect to under water features.

"We will have a canvas over the boat, with a black lining, instead of the cloth being placed over the head," said Captain Stanfield. "I had one experience with the cloth method, and think that was enough. At Catalina one day we took a party out in the glass boat, and when we came to a pretty spot I threw the cloth over the heads of a lady and gentleman in the crowd. I imagined that they were married, and after hubby, who was looking on, had called me down in fine fashion, and offered to kick me out of the boat, I decided that I would take no more chances with the cloth cover."

SPIRIT OF GOOD FRIDAY RESTRAINS DISORDER

That the goodness of Good Friday has affected the people is the feeling around police headquarters today, as up to noon there had been no arrests made.

Last night B. Fortunato, a Filipino, was arrested on two charges, one for stealing a shirt from Wah Ah Look's Chinese store at King and River streets. The proprietor chased down the street after the Filipino, who turned on his pursuer and knocked him down and kicked him. Hence the second charge of assault and battery.

In the meantime, one of the clerks in the store, hearing his boss shout "Thief," but not seeing the Filipino dashed out of the store to help hunt for the thief. The first man he saw was Charlie McGurn, whom he began to strike at. McGurn resented the attempted assault and returned the Chinaman's attack with interest. The badly beaten up Chinese then sought a warrant for McGurn's arrest at police station, but this was refused when he told his story.

MOST CITY DEPARTMENTS WEAR DESERTED LOOK

City offices in the McIntyre building were deserted today, as the mayor had given permission to the different departments to observe Good Friday by closing their doors. Except for the mayor's messenger, Carl Widemann, and H. H. Kennedy in the road department, and Robert D. Bicknell, segregation clerk in the auditor's office, there was not a soul to be seen.

Clerks in the city treasurer's office and most of them in the other departments in the Kapoli building offices were off for the day, but department heads were all hard at work this morning.

George M. Collins, city engineer, kept himself busy on the roads this morning, as all of the road gangs are at work. "There is too much work to be done for us to take a holiday," he said this morning.

Pvt. John Z. Brown, Company G, is detailed in his stead.

Sgt. Markus Swenson, Company E, 1st Infantry, is relieved from temporary special duty as overseer of carpenters in the Quartermaster Corps, and Opl. Harry B. Will, Company F, is detailed in his stead.

Lance Cpl. James Ford, Company F, 1st Infantry, is relieved as a member of the regimental signal detachment, and Pvt. James E. Miller, Company F, is detailed in his stead.

Pvt. Elatus Bryant, Company I, 1st Infantry, is transferred to the 55th Company, Coast Artillery Corps, stationed at Fort De Russy.

DRILL WITH RIFLES ON PUNAHOU CAMPUS

Drill with rifles is being held regularly now at Punahou campus by the cadet corps, under the command of Capt. Edwin A. Hickman, and the boys are rapidly rounding into shape.

Good response to orders is given to the company officers, most of whom have had little drill themselves in the arts of war. Capt. Hickman is well liked by the boys.

CO. F, 1ST INFANTRY MARCH. (By Pvt. Keegan, Co. F, 1st Inf., Schofield Barracks.)

(To the tune of "Hark! I Hear the Bugles Blowing.")

Oh, listen to the sound of drums arousing.

For the battle has begun, And there's going to be some fun down in Mexico.

And Old General George Funston Will show them the spirit of '61. Which is born in each and every Yankee son;

So its down with your shovel And down with your hoe; Fall in line, mark time, For we're off to fight in Mexico.

QUEEN'S SANITY QUESTIONED IN HIS TESTIMONY

and further said to her, "You are crazy."

"She then said to me to go and telephone to Mr. Cleghorn to come right away. I want to see him, whereupon I said to her, don't you know you are in San Francisco and Mr. Cleghorn is in Honolulu? How can I telephone to him?"

"She then remarked she had forgotten they were in San Francisco. She then asked for the prince and I replied that he was downstairs, whereupon she asked me to tell him that she wanted to see him. I met the prince a short while afterwards and delivered the queen's message to him, and later on a few days after New Year's day, my party, the prince and his wife, and the queen with her attendants all left for Washington, D. C. "SAMUEL PARKER."

Following is an excerpt from the testimony given by the aged witness when under direct examination regarding the San Francisco incident, Mr. Withington asking the questions:

"Did you see anything of the queen there?"

"Yes."

"When?"

"As soon as I met—after I got there to the—the—"

"At the hotel?"

"Yes."

"Where was she stopping?"

"At the—she was stopping at the—she was stopping at the—"

"Same hotel?"

"Same hotel."

"Did you see her?"

"Yes, I saw her."

"What conversation did you have with her?"

"Well I asked her by—I was asked by the queen if I knew—asked by—that is I was asked by the queen if I knew—well asked some question you know, and Mr.—"

"Was there anything about a deed of trust?"

"Oh yes."

"What did she say?"

"Asked me about the deeds. If I read the deeds of trust."

This was followed by objections and arguments from the attorneys, similar halting testimony being found through the whole taking of evidence. The testimony was taken at the request of attorneys for Kuhl.

Higher Prices for Small Cuts.

Analyzing the new scale of prices, the Board of Trade points out that the burden of the increase will fall upon small engravings, while the increase in the large plates will be proportionately small. Under the present method of price making, the Board of Trade states, the profits of the business are almost wholly derived from the "fat" on the large engravings. With the new scale in operation there will be, according to the estimate of the Board of Trade, a reasonable profit.

This means that three-inch engravings will cost proportionately that much more than two-inch engravings, and so on upwards to the largest engravings. By this method, it is estimated that while the cost of the small engraving will average considerably more than the large engraving, yet the generally yearly cost to the consumer will be practically the same as now.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, 54 members, representing 34 concerns, were present. A meeting of the board of directors of the Board of Trade was held on Wednesday afternoon, at which the action of the Board of Trade was ratified, after which the new scale of prices was ordered and distributed to the customers of the members. Introductory to the distribution of the new price scale, a circular letter will also be sent out, informing the customers of the proposed increase and setting forth the reasons.

PHOTO ENGRAVINGS

WILL NOW COST MORE

New Scale Adopted by Chicago Convention, Providing for Advance of 20 Per Cent, Goes Into Effect in New York April 3—Increased Cost of Labor and Raw Materials Principal Reasons.

A general average minimum increase of 20 per cent in photo engravings will become operative in New York City on April 3. This was decided upon Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Photo Engravers' Board of Trade of New York, and is based upon the standard scale for selling their products, adopted by the National Association of Photo Engravers at the Chicago convention in June, 1915.

In discussing the proposed increase with a representative of the Editor and Publisher, one of the officials of the Photo Engravers' Board of Trade said that the standard scale is designed on cost plus legitimate profit. One of the important items in the cost, he said, was the increased cost of labor, necessitated by a new labor agreement entered into by the Board of Trade with the Photo Engravers' Union, which became effective April 3. Some reasons for advance.

Another reason for the increase, he pointed out, was the greatly increased cost of raw materials, which have risen from 33 per cent to 1240 per cent in the last year and a half. As a forerunner to the proposed increase, the various members of the Board of Trade have sent to each of their customers a circular entitled "Why Photo Engraving is Costing More," and showing a comparison of the prices quoted in July, 1914, and March, 1915.

In this schedule copper, one of the principal ingredients of photo engraving, is shown to have increased 48 per cent, or from 35½ cents in July, 1914, to 52 cents in March, 1915. Zinc, another of the important raw materials, is shown to have increased 240 per cent, while 40 per cent nitric acid and 30 per cent muriatic acid have each increased 100 per cent. The biggest increase, according to the circular, was in potassium bromide, which rose from 41 cents in July, 1914, to $5.52 in March, 1915, or 1246 per cent. Other large increases quoted are: Mercury bichloride, 608 per cent; hydroquinone, 770 per cent; copper sulphate, 284 per cent; acetic acid, 240 per cent; acetone, 225 per cent.
